Homework

Due:

Wednesday
7th February

This week the children have been exploring the Arctic as part of our topic, 'On the High Seas. To continue this, I would like the children to carry out an extended piece of homework. This will include researching Arctic animals and then choosing their favourite animal to complete a piece of artwork and some facts. This could be a drawing, painting, junk modelling, collage etc. Please support your child in writing some simple sentences or words if appropriate otherwise this can be scribed by yourselves.

As the next 5 weeks of homework will be maths based linked to the parent project, I have allowed extra time for this extended piece of work, therefore please take your time to complete this activity. The children will share their work and we will use the work to create a class display and book.

Please make comments about your child's engagement with the activity via Evidence Me and include photographs.

Many thanks and have a great weekend,
Miss Alexander
