

Homework

Friday 7th June 2024

Please complete the following:

English	Narrative prep Following on from Friday's learning, begin planning your story into your homework books. Have a go at writing the beginning of your story, remembering to include the setting and atmosphere description as well as telling me about the characters. Remember you can portray your characters through speech. Also, think about what dialogue you are going to have in your writing that will convey the character and advance the action. Look at the information provided to help you
---------	--

Why do we use dialogue in our writing?

To establish a character's personality

- How they interact with others.
- What language and vocab they may use.

To move the events along

- Advance the action. or provide a back story.

If you need any further guidance on how to complete the tasks, please ask! Don't leave it until Wednesday!

Remember, have a go and try your best!

Examples to help:

Desperate to escape, citizens were yelling, whimpering and running, trying to escape from this ghost town. There was one lady who was not trying to escape but to find her daughter called Rose. Anna had light blue eyes that glistened just like her daughter's. Also she had dark brown hair which blew in the wind. "Sir, Sir do you know where my daughter is?" Rose's mother frantically stumbled, as the fog covered her terrified face. "Calm down you crazy lady, I am trying to get people out of here. Now go." The soldier grunted as people crowded him. The crowd slipped into thin air as the town's joy vanished, wind gasped, fog smeared, and the rain sobbed. Whilst the rusty, zealous army truck stood and protected the startled residents, the Russian army came closer and closer.

Anna was a coward-like girl with a bad attitude. Her mother would constantly tell her off and ground her. One late evening Anna's friend Dave came over. Normally, she would be happy but this time the scene changed. The blue walls turned red and a mysterious figure appeared. Fog leaked through the window whilst he danced round in circles. Then all of it. All of it was gone. It just disappeared. After that, Anna was shaken – both of them were silent. They didn't know what to say. Silence went on for hours until... Anna's eyes went white and she fell back for a short while. Dave's nervous thoughts made everything worse. He began shaking her but that was a bad decision. Anna began dancing in a circle like the mysterious figure. At first, Dave thought it was all a prank. All of a sudden, she stopped dancing but although she stopped that, she started mumbling. Louder, Louder, LOUDER Anna shouted from the top of her lungs. "I will get you!" mumbled Anna as she charged at Dave. "Anna please stop!" Dave pleaded as he tried to hide from her. Minutes went by as suddenly it all happened again. Anna's eyes went white she fell back and...
